HUNS TIRE UNDER STRAIN; FRENCH FORCED TO RETIRE; GEORGE CALLS TO U. S.

ALBERT TAKEN BUT ALLIES MAKE GAINS

North and South of Somme British Drive Germans Back Across Ancre and Retake Morlancourt and Chipilly

BOCHE LOSSES 400,000

Twenty-Five Miles Extent of Greatest Penetration By Teutons, But Enemy Has Left Flanks Dangerously Open to Counter Attack and Defeat

The strength of the great German offensive in France is fast diminishing. On the seventh day of the titanic battle there were strong indications that the enemy was feeling materially the strain he had undergone and that his power had been greatly impaired through hard usage.

While the town of Albert has been captured from the British and west of Roye, the French have been compelled to give ground in the face of greatly superior numbers. The British have repulsed heavy attacks, both north and south of the Somme and also driven back across the Ancre river the Germans who forded the stream Wednesday. The fighting still continues of a sanguinary character on all of these sectors, but everywhere the British and French are holding the enemy. Especially severe has been the fighting west of Albert, where the Germans, in an endeavor to debouch westward, were repulsed by Field Marshal Haig's men with the heaviest casualties.

The British gains between the Somme and Ancre regions are represented by the recapture of the towns of Morlancourt and Chipilly. South of the Somme they have advanced to Proyart, which lies south of Bray.

German Losses 400,000 Men.

All along the 50-mile front from the region of Arras to the south of Oise near Noyon the effect of what was to have been the final stroke to end the war in a victory for the Teutons is only too plainly evident in the redevastating of the country side and the wreck and ruin of the towns, villages and hamlets through which the armies have passed.

Westward from where the old battle line reared itself the Germans everywhere have pushed forward for material gains, but with few before them who fought with the greatest bravery and stubbornness and ceded no ground unless recompensed in numerous rates in men killed, wounded or made prisoners. It is estimated that in the great attacks delivered in mass formation more than 400,000 of the nearly a million men the Germans throw into the fray are dead, wounded or in the hands of their foes. While soon verdant spring is to burst forth over the blasted territory, the hills, plains and valleys of Picardy are red with German blood.

Greatest Penetration 25 Miles.

About 25 miles represents the greatest point of penetration made at any place by the enemy in his advance, and on the northern and southern end of the big salient he has left his flanks dangerously open to counter attacks, which if successful possibly much result in a retreat greater than the 1916 retrograde movement of von Hindenburg and shilly in its entirety the drive that has been accomplished. It is not improbable that French and British reserves and possibly American troops known to be behind the battle front will soon be thrown against the weakened enemy.

Notwithstanding the strength of the German drive nowhere has the British and French front, along the latter of which American troops have given a good account of their ability as fighters been even dented.

Ground has been given it is true, but so skillfully and with such precision of movement that from north to south a surveyor could scarcely have worked out a more even line. Still intact in the hands of the Allied forces are portions of the old line from which von Hindenburg fell back in his "strategic" retirement in 1916. Just who is in command of the German forces seems to be somewhat in doubt. Late dispatches report that Field Marshal von Hindenburg has been at Brest in the Russian theater and German war correspondents assert that General von Ludendorff not only planned the offensive but was on the ground last Friday personally to control the attacks.

BRITISH ARE ON LINE THAT THEY CAN HOLD FIRM

The Allies Bringing Up Reserves in Their Southern Sector

HURL TEUTONS BACK

English Recapture Two Villages and Advance to Proyart As Boche Slow Up

GERMAN WEDGE EFFORT FAILING

Fighting Quality of Allied Infantrymen Fails Huns—Many Heroic Deeds

London, England, March 27.—Tonight's news from the battle front confirms the hopeful impression formed early in the day that the British now appear to be on a line they are able to hold firmly, at least on the Somme and Ancre rivers.

Further south to the Roye-Noyon region the situation is less well defined, but it is stated that both the French and British are bringing up reserves there. The correspondents also are showing greater confidence that the enemy will be held on this terrain.

The German official communication of tonight was significantly brief and reserved. It reports the crossing of the Ancre, but only refers to Tuesday's events, while the British war office statement shows that the German who had crossed the stream were thrown back today in counter attacks.

British Recapture Villages.

The news from the front is distinctly encouraging, the British having captured Morlancourt and Chipilly and advanced to Proyart.

The infantry fighting along the major portion of the British front in the new battle zone showed a marked slowing down this morning, indicating that the first phase of the German offensive here has been finished. From the southern sector, however, came word that the Germans were still pressing the attack with great fury against the unyielding defense.

The enemy has paused in the northern sector, probably to reorganize and bring forward much needed artillery before beginning the second round against the stiffening opposition of the British.

Hard local battles were still in progress, but the first fury of the German onslaught had spent itself. Several attacks which the Germans essayed were smashed and at Sailly-le-Sec, where the Germans last night gained a footing, the British this morning delivered a smashing counter attack which pushed the invaders back.

The spirit of optimism was higher along the front today.

German Wedge Effort Fails.

(By the Associated Press.)

With the French Army in France, (Tuesday evening), March 26.—The German effort by a terrific thrust to get between the French and British forces with the object of defeating each separately has failed up to the present and is likely to continue to fail. The fighting quality of the Allied soldiers has served to stay the impulsive advance and today the Anglo-French line is on strong positions.

The next few days may change the situation entirely as the Allies have had time to get their "manoeuvring reserve" to take the initiative. Noyon was evacuated last night in good order and the French took up a position nearby.

The correspondent passed today among troops who have borne a great share in the fighting of the past five days. Everywhere cheerfulness was to be found and perfect confidence in the future. Nowhere has the correspondent seen such splendid morale among troops after long hard fighting, more especially than when those troops had to fall back. Both officers and men, whether French or British, tell narratives of wonderful heroism on the part of individuals and units.

Batteries-men Escape Germans.

The gunner of a battery of French 75s in the neighborhood of Chauny were surrounded for three days without food, but fought until the last round was fired; then, taking ad-

Long Ambulance Trains Carry German Wounded

Amsterdam, Holland, March 27.—Enormously long ambulance trains are passing through Liege and Namur, Belgium, on their way to Aix-la-Chapelle and other parts of Germany with wounded men from the French battle front according to the Telegraaf frontier correspondent.

Many of the wounded have been detained at Namur, says the correspondent, who adds that the hospitals in northern France have not sufficient accommodations for the great stream of sufferers. The Telegraaf's Sevanaar correspondent says the first transport with wounded have arrived at frontier towns. Commenting on this fact the Telegraaf says that while the German communication speaks of the slight German losses it is significant that even in the most out of the way places in Germany wounded are arriving.

vanage of some confusion among the Germans in the course of the third night they somehow made their way through their encircling foes and escaped, carrying their wounded comrades with them. This is merely one instance among many similar daring deeds.

Men belonging to a dismounted French cavalry corps, acting as infantry, fought a rear guard action day after day against immense odds. The troopers declare that the enemy came forward in such deep waves that it was only necessary to fire point blank to hit with certainty. These cavalrymen fired into the enemy so rapidly that the Germans fell in squads; yet still others came on until the French defenders were compelled to cease firing because both rifles and machine guns were red hot.

Shot Down in Relays.

The advance of the Germans was the same everywhere, wave succeeding wave in close succession, only to be shot down. It was something like a relay race.

The Allies stood the test most courageously, but such a continued series of shocks from fresh troops was bound to tell on tired men and eventually the Allies were forced to give way and they did so, still firing.

It was clearly apparent that the German high command relied on this method of sacrifice to break through. The French dash deprived some considerable satisfaction from the fact that many German divisions were put out of the battle line, at least for the period required for their reconstruction, and in this way the reserves of the enemy were used up while the Allies called on only their immediate reserves.

ATLETE SHERIDAN CROSSES LINE

Winner of Events in Olympic Games and Nearly 100 Championships Dips of Pneuomonia.

New York, March 27.—Martin J. Sheridan, world famous athlete, died of pneumonia at a hospital here tonight.

Sheridan was born near Swinford, County Mayo, Ireland, in 1880. Twenty years later he came to America and soon became prominent in track and field athletics as a member of the Irish-American Athletic club of New York. He joined the metropolitan police force in 1905 and won the individual all around championship of the Amateur Athletic union in that same year. He duplicated this achievement in 1907 and 1908.

He earned world-wide fame by winning the shot put and discus contests at the Olympic games at Athens, Greece, in 1906, and the discus events at the Olympic games at London, England, in 1908, as a member of the American team. His championships total nearly 100.

U-Boat Losses Jump to 28 Ships in Week

London, England, March 27.—Submarines and mines have increased their weekly toll of British shipping. The admiralty's report shows that in the last week 28 merchantmen were sunk, 16 of the vessels being 1,500 tons or over and 12 under that tonnage. One fishing vessel was lost.

Nineteen merchantmen were unsuccessfully attacked. The arrivals at ports in the United Kingdom numbered 2,471, sailings 2,485.

The admiralty report for the previous week showed the loss of 17 British merchantmen by mine or submarine, while for several weeks preceding that the weekly loss was 18.

ONLY ONE PLANE SHIPPED ABROAD BY U. S. SO FAR

So Testifies Col. Lester of the Army Signal Corps Division

FACTS ARE WITHHELD

Senator Wadsworth Charges That Government Is Misleading the Public

PROBE INFORMATION COMMITTEE

Captions on Pictures of Airplanes Found to Misrepresent Conditions

Washington, D. C., March 27.—Lieut. Col. E. Lester Jones of the supply division of the Signal corps, testified before the senate military committee today that only one airplane had been shipped to Europe by this government since it entered the war.

This statement was made in response to a question asked by Senator Wadsworth of New York, who charged that government officials were making a deliberate effort through the committee on public information to mislead the public regarding the facts as to the airplane situation.

Senator Wadsworth displayed a list of captions for pictures sent out by the committee for use on March 30, telling of great numbers of airplane bodies which are now waiting shipment to France. He said he had called the committee to say that these statements were untrue and had been told the information came from the signal corps.

Chairman Chamberlain at once ordered a representative of the committee summoned.

Factories Turning Out Planes.

Lawrence Rubel of Chicago, director of the committee's division of pictures, appeared shortly afterwards and testified that the pictures on which the captions were based were obtained from Col. Deeds of the Signal corps. He added that Col. Deeds gave no information regarding shipment of airplanes to France, but did advise that the airplanes were coming through the factories so fast that they had to be stored in warehouses.

Members of the committee declared the captions were misleading and should be withdrawn, which Rubel agreed to do at once. He said the captions were written by Maurice Strunsky of New York, an employee of the information committee, who told him they were based on "the statement of Secretary Baker."

Rubel conceded that the captions were "flamboyant" and said they would not have been sent out had they been submitted to him.

When Senator Freelinghuysen of New Jersey wanted to know if "the censorship bureau did not need a censor," Mr. Rubel said there was a censor in the Signal corps. He is Lieut. Burkhardt, and Chairman Chamberlain ordered him summoned for tomorrow morning.

PROTEST PROFESSOR'S SPEECH

Chicago, Ill., March 27.—The Cornell University society of Chicago today sent a letter of protest to the president of Cornell university against what they term the disloyal and seditious remarks made by Prof. Nathaniel Schmidt of Cornell in a speech here some time ago.

Prof. Schmidt is alleged to have criticized England for holding in subjugation the greatest number of people of any nation in the world, and to have declared that "in conscript people to fight our wars that we do not give voice in the government is wrong and there should be laws against such procedure."

ENGINEERS DROP STRIKE.

London, England, March 27.—In view of the critical situation at the front, the Amalgamated Society of Engineers has abandoned the strike movement it had long been threatening as a protest against the government's man power measure.

WASHINGTON HAS MUCK CASE.

Washington, D. C., Mar. 27.—Whether Dr. Karl Muck shall be interned as a dangerous enemy alien, will be decided by department of justice officials after a report is received from the United States attorney at Poston where Dr. Muck is under arrest.

U. S. CANNOT SEND AID ANY TOO FAST

Get Reenforcements Across the Atlantic in Shortest Possible Space of Time British Premier Says in Appeal

MEN AND SHIPS NEEDED

At Crisis of War, Attacked By Great Hordes, and Forced to Retire, French and British Spirits Are Kept Up, Knowing We Shall Not Fail Them, He Writes

New York, March 27.—A message from David Lloyd George, prime minister of Great Britain, calling upon the United States to send "American reinforcements across the Atlantic in the shortest possible space of time," was read tonight by Lord Reading, British high commissioner to the United States, at a dinner given here in his honor.

"We are at the crisis of the war, attacked by an immense superiority of German troops," said the premier in his message. Our army has been forced to retire. The retirement has been carried out methodically before the pressure of a steady succession of fresh German reserves which were suffering enormous losses.

Cannot Exaggerate Need of U. S. Troops.

"The situation is being faced with splendid courage and resolution. The dogged pluck of our troops has for the moment checked the ceaseless onrush of the enemy and the French have now joined in the struggle. But this battle, the greatest and most momentous in the history of the world, is only just beginning. Throughout the French and British are buoyed with the knowledge that the Great Republic of the West will neglect no effort which can hasten its ships and its troops to Europe.

"In war, time is precious. It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of getting American reinforcements across the Atlantic in the shortest possible space of time."

The dinner, which was given by the Lotus club in honor of Lord Reading, was the most largely attended of any in the history of that organization.

GUILTY ATTEMPTED EXTORTION

Two Young "Holsherk" High School Students Tried to Get $10,000 from Head of D. & H.

New York, March 27.—Isidore Gerstein and Morris Bernstein, arrested last night, charged with attempting to blackmail L. P. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson railroad company out of $10,000 by threatening "disclosures" concerning his son, an officer in the United States army, pleaded guilty to attempted extortion when they were arraigned late today. The youths, who were High school students, told the court that they are believers in the doctrine of the Bolsheviks and that they hoped to get the money from Mr. Loree in order to conduct a propaganda in this country. Many socialist and anarchist pamphlets were found in their rooms.

FOUR ARRESTED FOR BIG JERSEY FIRE

One Confesses Throwing Lighted Cigarette on Floor; Others Violated Law

Jersey City, N. J., March 27.—Four men were under arrest tonight in connection with the fire yesterday which destroyed the Jarvis warehouse here with a loss estimated at approximately $2,000,000.

The first to be taken into custody was Jacob B. Altman, a weigher employed in the warehouse, who is said to have confessed that he threw a lighted cigarette on the floor of the shed where the first explosion occurred in a quantity of putch which had leaked out of kegs stored in the building. Although Altman was born in this country, his father was a German.

The other men arrested were Robert M. Jarvis, president of the warehouse company, William E. Wilson, superintendent of the warehouse, and Edward P. Floyd-Jones, secretary of the Baker company of New York, which is said to have owned the potash which exploded. They are charged with violating the law regulating the manufacture, storage and sale of the explosives.

The complaint against the three men were made by James Connolly, inspector of combustibles who alleges that they failed to obtain a permit for the storage of potash in the warehouse.

AMERICAN GUNS STOP HUN BLOW

Break Up German Attack on Our Lines in Toul Sector Yesterday Morning

SLAYS RETAKE ODESSA

Increased Activity on the Italian Front Pressages Offensive There Soon

(By the Associated Press.)

With the American Army in France, March 27.—What promised to be a German attack on the American lines northwest of Toul this morning, was broken up by artillery fire. The enemy had heavily bombarded certain positions of the American line and then had sent a sweeping barrage against No Man's Land. Enemy trench mortars firing from the west of Richecourt started a box barrage and from enemy machine guns came a rain of bullets.

Italian Front More Active.

On the other battle fronts the operations continue of a minor character, but daily the situation in Italy gives greater indications that an offensive against the Italians is in prospect.

Large re-enforcements continue to be drawn up behind the line by the Austrians and Germans and the artillery activity on the whole front is growing more intense. The fresh men being sent to this theatre are said to have been drawn heavily from the Rumanian line.

In Russia the situation again attracts attention by reason of the fact that the Ukrainians and the Bolsheviks have recaptured Odessa from the Teutonic Allies and in addition now hold the important towns of Nikolayev, Kherson, and Znamanka. The reports also have it that the Cossack General Korniloff's troops have been surrounded by the Bolsheviks.

WHEN HEADACHY TAKE CASCARETS FOR THE BOWELS

To-night! Clean your bowels and end headaches, colds, sour stomach.

Get a 10-cent box now. You're bilious! You have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

played by Mrs. Arthur Laudmesser, and took their places under an arch of evergreens and yellow daffodils, where the ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. Arthur Laudmesser, in the presence of about 30 guests.

The bride was charmingly attired in a dress of white net over white silk with trimmings of taffeta. Her going-away gown was a tailored suit of gray French serge with hat, gloves and shoes to match.

After the ceremony and congratulations, a delicious luncheon was served and the happy couple left later in the afternoon on a trip to Jacksonville, Fla. Upon their return, they will begin housekeeping in Syracuse. The couple received a number of beautiful gifts, including a substantial sum of money, silver, linen, and cut glass. The bride is an accomplished young lady, a graduate of the Unadilla High school, and a successful teacher. The groom has a lucrative position with the New York Central at Syracuse.

BUSINESS AND NO LICENSE.

One of the principal arguments which has been presented in opposition to the no-license movement, perhaps the principal one from the purely economic standpoint, is that the city will be less prosperous financially if the sale of liquor is prohibited—that less people will visit the town for pleasure or business, that it will be shunned by commercial men, that business places will be closed, that taxes will be increased and that in general there will be less of the thrift which now distinguishes the community.

The reasons or the arguments on all these points are well known. The fact is, however, that they are arguments only; and villages, towns and cities everywhere refute the "wet" contention.

One may for an example take separate towns and villages in our own section—for instance the whole county of Delaware. One by one the townships of that county went dry, and now everyone of them is no-license. The experience in some of these townships runs back far more than a quarter of a century. If this experience had demonstrated that no-license was detrimental to the public welfare even in a monetary way, there has been plenty of time to find it out, and the descendants of the canny Scots who largely settled there would have known it as soon as anybody. That the county is now dry and likely permanently to remain so shows what public sentiment is after trying it out; and the general prosperity of the county demonstrates the same thing.

In cities of the size of our own or larger, there has been no "dry" experience in the state of New York. But the country over there are plenty of cities which are dry as a result of the adoption of state-wide prohibition. The experience of these cities is interesting. Seattle, Wash., is an example. The Times of that city, after opposing prohibition on economic grounds alone, announced in an interview with its editor six months later that the savings accounts in the banks had increased largely, that every grocery store in the city showed the greatest increase in business it had ever known, and that the dry goods stores made like enthusiastic statement of the results of the city going dry. Knowing the facts the Times announced its conversion and its conviction that it was better to buy shoes than booze. In dry Denver the Colorado Mayor said that the business interests are generally satisfied with the present condition. The mayor of Omaha says prohibition has helped business, people buy more, pay better and that rentals are about the same and in some cases better. Rockford, Ill., so a leading citizen says, has no empty stores and the taxes have been reduced one-half since the town went dry.

Coming nearer home, a statement made 80 days ago by a large number of the leading merchants of Cobleskill says: "We are perfectly satisfied. A canvass of the town to see how business was affected showed that the merchants reported a 75 per cent better business than the previous year. The deposits of our two banks increased $161,000."

These instances might be multiplied indefinitely. They all come to this—that money saved from booze and invested in bread and butter and other worth-while things makes a city better from the economic standpoint and that nobody need fear for the commercial interests of his town because it has gone dry.

As for the commercial traveler, whom we had almost forgotten, whatever he may have been in the past, he is uniformly of a fine type today. He does not drink himself and does not cater to business that way; and he will be the last to shun a town where the people save their money to pay their bills, and where on that account the merchants have funds to pay theirs.

As for the movement in Oneonta, it has from the first been in largest measure promoted by the business men. They have given the matter careful consideration from both the moral and economic standpoint, they know what the result of no-license has been elsewhere, and they are convinced that the city will not only be a cleaner place to live in but that every legitimate business interest will be benefited. There is no need of warning to them. They understand the matter thoroughly.

CHAUTAUQUA GUARANTORS

Called to Meet Manager Dalgaty at The Oneonta at Three O'clock.

George S. Dalgaty, vice president and general superintendent of the Redpath Chautauqua system, arrived in the city last evening and is a guest at The Oneonta. He comes prepared to announce the talent engaged for the coming summer and desires to meet the Oneonta guarantors this afternoon at 3 o'clock at parlors of The Oneonta to lay before them the program and to make arrangements for the annual event. Mr. Dalgaty is confident that the list will be an appealing one. While it is not certain, it is hoped that the Chautauqua will be presented upon the same grounds as formerly.

TOPICS OF THE PRESS

Make it a "Victory Loan."

We wish Secretary McAdoo could have stirred the country by announcing the new loan as a "Victory Loan." We are sure the country, just at this moment, would have responded tremendously to such a slogan.

But there is no possible doubt that it will respond tremendously in any event. Though the subscription calls for only three millions nominally, we are quite sure that a mighty campaign will be begun to make the actual subscriptions nearly double this. The money is needed and the enthusiasm and the moral support which it will give our hard pressed Allies are also needed.—[New York Tribune.]

No Job for Lover of Freedom.

Traveling as an agent for George Sylvester Viereck's magazine is no life for a lover of freedom, according to Jacob P. Loebberg, who returned to Brooklyn yesterday and announced that he has made his last trip for "Viereck's Weekly." In the first place, the erstwhile agent explained, it takes too long to get from place to place. He was delayed for days in Lynchburg, Va.; Augusta, Ga., and Atchison, Kan. In the second place, he continued, the jails in these towns are none too good.

"I'm through with my job," said Loebberg positively. "I can't afford to be thrown into all the jails in the country."—[Exchange.]

A Tribute to France.

That Paris walked out for its Palm Sunday almost as usual testifies eloquently to the reserves of valor still unmustered in the common French heart. A fine blade always was the French spirit; now, by years of fire, it is tempered even brighter and keener. France's soldiers come superbly into action by the side of their British Allies.

"Bled white!" they said, now months ago. Yet forward, forward France steps into the battle. Sheer intellect, sheer soul, she stands before our blurred eyes today—calm, radiant, unconquerable as right and beauty and truth.—[New York Tribune.]

The Orange and the Pocketbook. Announcement is made that about half the usual supply of oranges may be expected from California, owing to last summer's hot wave, which shriveled green oranges and lemons on the trees. The consumer will appreciate what the telegraphing of that statement from San Francisco is calculated to do to his pocketbook.—[Springfield Republican.]

Must a Prussian Lie.

Daily reports from Berlin say "the Fortress of Paris was bombarded by long-range guns." Paris is not a fortress. It is a fortified city, and international law prescribes that in such cases there must be due notice of attack so that noncombatants may be removed. Must a Prussian lie?—[New York World.]

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS FOR FARMERS

Prof. F. D. Robinson HERE FOR FEW DAYS TO SECURE PLACES.

New York Will Send Out Able Bodied High School Boys Over 16 to Help in Farm Work—Employers of Last Summer Favorable—Mr. DuBois and Mr. Bennett of Labor Bureau Co-operating.

Prof. F. D. Robinson of New York, who is spending the week in Otsego and Delaware counties in the interest of the Farm Cadet movement, has available upon his list some 75 able bodied young men 16 years or older from the high schools of his home city, who are ready, having volunteered for this work during the summer months. Mr. Robinson finds that Delaware county is aroused and Mr. DuBois of the Delhi Agricultural school has presented the project to many Grange gatherings in that county and that many places will be found for them among the farmers of that county. S. C. McClintock of Franklin, who had one of the cadets last summer, writes to Mr. Robinson that he was well pleased with the results last year and desires another one for the coming season. He adds that he knows of places for six additional young men in his vicinity. Mr. McClintock says, "I cannot see why any man cannot make a success of a boy, provided he is faithful and willing and the farmers makes an earnest effort to make a good helper out of the boy." Mr. Robinson, in speaking of the plan, said that every man who had a boy last year declared that "they were faithful and did the best they knew how."

Mr. Robinson since arriving in Oneonta has gotten in touch with P. F. Bennett of Milford, who has been appointed director of the labor bureau for Otsego county and who soon is to open an office with the Oneonta Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Bennett promises to give the project his hearty support and to co-operate with all farmers desiring to engage one of these students. Mr. Robinson will remain in the city until Saturday and would be pleased to hear from all farmers in this section who might be interested in engaging one of these boys.

The plan is simple and the training that the boys will receive by spending one week or more at the Delhi Agricultural school will be very profitable and make the boys worth more than last year at the outset. It is firmly believed by those familiar with the work that the young men who worked last year are far more profitable to engage than the idle men of the larger towns and the cities who are adverse to work, although perhaps having more knowledge than the boys.

One thing is certain that the time is rapidly passing and those who have not engaged competent help and find it impossible to secure should not neglect this opportunity to engage one of these young men, who certainly can be made profitable with a little painstaking effort.

Confidence in Victory Is Keynote
In the New Liberty Bond Poster

"MAKE HIS DREAMS COME TRUE."

From billboards throughout the United States, during the Third Liberty Loan, a huge twenty-four sheet poster will exhort the public to make our soldiers' dream of victory come true. The figure of the sleeping soldier is in khaki color, forming a vivid contrast to the cold greenish representation of No Man's Land in the background. That portion of the poster which portrays his dream of victory—his comrades marching home joyously bearing the laurels that they have won in the trenches—is full of life and action and well-represents the state of mind that must come to the victorious soldier.

OTSEGO COUNTY INSTITUTE

Woman's Christian Temperance Union Convenes in Oneonta Next Tuesday and Wednesday—Mrs. Armor of Georgia Delivers Closing Address.

It is expected that there will be a large attendance at the Otsego County Institute of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at the First Baptist church in this city. An excellent program has been prepared in which leading citizens of the county who are interested in the temperance movement will participate; and as a final feature of the institute, Mrs. Mary Harris Armor of Georgia will deliver an address Wednesday evening. Mrs. Armor, whose addresses have been described as verbal fireworks, packs convincing argument into her remarks and those who heard her in this city a few years ago will be eager to listen again to this earnest and enthusiastic southern orator.

The institute begins Tuesday morning with a business session, followed by a basket lunch at which the Oneonta union will serve tea and coffee. In the afternoon, following roll call and responses, there will be a forum on Patriotic service. Mrs. Mary Hartum will tell what the W. C. T. U. is doing for soldiers and sailors. Mrs. Ada Wilber for safeguarding camps. Mrs. Della Jones for household thrift. Mrs. Anna Eckler for Americanization and Mrs. Jarvis Clarke for legislation. Other interesting discussions will fill the afternoon and in the evening there will be a matrons' declamatory contest for silver medal. The contestants will be Mrs. Lizzie Mariette of Mt. Vision, Mrs. Jarvis Clarke of Oneonta, Mrs. Blanche Windsor of Hartwick, Mrs. Florence Rodgers of Edmeston, Mrs. Edna Harrison and Mrs. Belle Hoose of Mt. Vision and Mrs. Hazel Robinson of Garrettsville.

Wednesday morning there will be a praise and promise service led by Mrs. Mary Bundy and Mrs. Leta Briggs, a county executive meeting and reading of minutes, after which there will be a W. C. T. U. exchange led by Mrs. Lucina Potter. Local treasurers will tell how they raised their share of the mile of dimes. Pastors Boyce, Dodge, Henry and Jones will tell of their work in the no-license campaign. Mrs. C. B. Henry of the Day of Prayer, the local presidents of how they gain new members and Mrs. D. L. Meeker of Patriotic service.

In the afternoon there will be a business session and afterwards a temperance instruction forum. Mrs. Alma Webster will give a study of a plan for work, and there will be thirty-five-minute talks by Mrs. Florence Groff, Mrs. Eliza Pattengill, and Mrs. S. B. Halstead, followed by the reading of prize essays in the Oneonta contest. At 3:15 there will be a forum on citizenship, with ten-minute talks on the value of citizenship by Mrs. Jarvis Clarke, moral questions in politics by Rev. B. M. Johns, the platform or the candidate by Prof. A. M. Curtis, and the party platform by Rev. Dr. J. C. Russell.

In the evening, following the opening services by Dr. Pendleton, there will be a duet by Miss Beach and Mrs. Collins, a solo by Jerry Wilson and as a final memorable feature the address of Mrs. Armor. No one should fail to listen to this address.

Ladies in attendance are requested to bring lunch for two on Tuesday. The Oneonta union will furnish tea and coffee. The Philathea class of the First Baptist church will furnish supper Tuesday night and dinner and supper on Wednesday. All out of town visitors will be entertained one or both nights and served with breakfast in the morning. Those desiring entertainment should notify Mrs. J. N. Holmes, 36 Maple street, Oneonta, as soon as possible.

EGG-COLLECTING CONTEST

State Forestry Association Offers Prizes.

The New York State Forestry association has asked the cooperation of the State Education Department in organizing a campaign for the collection and destruction of the egg masses of the white-marked tussock moth. Here is a chance for some good fun in making a record catch and securing one of the prizes of $5, $3 and $2 offered to the three pupils collecting the largest number of egg masses in each of the following districts: (1) New York, excluding Brooklyn; (2) Brooklyn, including Staten Island; (3) Newburgh, Poughkeepsie and Kingston; (4) Albany, Schenectady and Troy; (5) Utica, and Rome; (6) Binghamton and Oneonta; (7) Syracuse and Auburn; (8) Rochester and Geneva; (9) Buffalo and Batavia; (10) Ithaca, Elmira and Jamestown.

The teachers in the various schools are asked to give such assistance as feasible in directing the work and making returns. Estimates based on weight or volume, whichever is more convenient, will be accepted in computing the number of egg masses. The contest will begin April 8 and close April 27. The reports should be in the hands of the State Entomologist, State Education Building, Albany, by May 31. They will be tabulated and the results reported to the Forestry Association, which will in turn award the prizes.

The conspicuous snowy white egg masses about one-half of an inch in diameter are deposited upon filmy cocoons attached to the bark of the trunk and larger branches of trees, especially lindens, horse chestnuts and elms. Each of these egg masses contain about three hundred eggs and as the females are wingless it is comparatively easy to clean trees, streets or even entire villages of this pest, since its spread is practically limited to the crawling powers of the caterpillars.

Lutheran Church Services. At 4 o'clock this afternoon, the children's Easter practice will be held in the church. At 7:45 p. m., holy public services will be held. Tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock, Good Friday services preparatory to Holy communion, will be held. Class instruction before and after this service.

LOCAL MENTION.

—Chautauque guarantors should not overlook the meeting called for this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the parlors of The Oneonta.

—Rev. Dr. E. J. Farley goes to Cooperstown to preach at the Good Friday services at the First Baptist church there, held at 2:30 in the afternoon.

—The Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will serve a covered dish luncheon this afternoon in the church parlors. All ladies of the church invited.

—No license seems to be in the air of the city if the records of the city clerk's office can be accepted as indicative. But one marriage license has been issued thus far this month.

—The Easter recess of the public schools of the city begins at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The schools will remain closed throughout all of next week, and will reopen Monday morning, April 8.

—The Red Cross states that if any packages of old clothing for the war refugees were overlooked yesterday, they will be called for this afternoon if the holders will notify Red Cross headquarters.

—Harry Martin, who was successfully operated upon last Friday for appendicitis at the Fox Memorial hospital by Dr. F. H. Marx, was yesterday removed to the home of his aunt at 390 Main street.

—The Coperley & Morgan Real Estate company has sold a bungalow on Coperley avenue at West End to Matthew Brown, a D. & H. employee, who will take possession and occupy the property as a home on May 1.

—The D. & H. company has recently installed three boulevard lamps of 200 watt power, alongside the track at either end of the passenger station. The lights are a great convenience to the traveling public and to express messengers as well.

—Patriotic women are invited to come to the surgical dressings rooms, formerly the Munn Music store, this evening, from 7 until 9, to help complete a special case of surgical dressings which must be finished by Friday night. If you want to help in an emergency be sure and be among those present.

—Arrangements are being made for a Voters' school to be held in the vicinity of the West End Baptist church on Saturday afternoon and evening for the instruction of the women voters relative to registering and voting on the local option question. Further announcement will be made in the issues of Friday and Saturday.

—An inspector from the state department has been assisting the local sealer of weights and measures for a day or two and numerous scales have been inspected and some minor faults corrected. They found a considerable number of weights which were light and were condemned and seized. These were mostly of small sizes, such as used by druggists and jewelers. It was thought that they had been worn by long usage.

WILL FOLLOW THE CLOCK.

Easter Services in Many City Churches An Hour Earlier.

The question as to what time the church services will be held Easter morning has been discussed by the Ministerial association of the city and the clergymen uniting in that organization, with the exception of two who were not present, decided to follow the regulations of the national government and to advance the clock and at the same time to call the church services on Sunday at the usual hour at 10:30 o'clock by the clock. This is complying with the law and the intent of the law and will make it that much easier for the members to follow the law the following Monday morning.

Clocks are to be set ahead one hour that morning, presumably at 2 o'clock, to remain that way until October. It is assumed that most people will be before retiring Saturday night move the clocks ahead one hour and commence Easter morning to arise with the clock. Announcement of intention of St. James, St. Mary's and the Lutheran churches will be made in a later issue.

WRECK CAUSES HEAVY LOSS

Twenty-one Loaded Cars Piled in Pyramid Fashion Quarter Mile North of Slingerlands Tuesday Night — Fire Breaks Out, Necessitating Calling Firemen to Help.

Heavy will be the financial loss resulting from the wreck on the D. & H., brief mention only of which was made in yesterday's Star. The wreck was caused by a broken journal on a freight car, and 21 cars were piled up on the down grade about one-quarter mile north of Slingerlands. The train was an extra northbound, and was in charge of Conductor Bancroft of the Saratoga division and Engineer Lorrain of this division. The cars piled up in a pyramid style over a distance of 800 feet. Shortly after the derailment the cars caught fire and an emergency call was sent to the Albany fire department for assistance. Owing to the distance from the fire hydrants, the department thought it could give no assistance.

Yesterday morning, however, Vice President Gutelius of the D. & H. got in touch with the mayor of Albany, who personally visited the scene in company with Supt. McNeillie of this division, and when the conditions were seen the mayor at once arranged to send hose and engine to the relief work. The Suburban Water company, through Mr. Fraser, provided water and in a short time after the arrival of the fire fighting apparatus the fire was out, but not until after all the cars were damaged, it is believed, beyond repair. There were no cars of munitions in the train, contrary to reports. There was, however, a shipment of acid and of other chemicals. There were cars of bran, oats and other grains and a number of cars of coal and one of automobiles. The loss it is impossible to estimate until after the cars are checked up and the goods and cars inventoried.

During the day yesterday all main line cars were sent around by way of Schenectady, while local traffic between Delanson and Albany was carried for by short trains that operated between Delanson and the wreck and Albany and the wreck. Train 306, due in Oneonta at 6:55 o'clock, was the first train sent out of Albany for the south over the main line, and it was delayed for some time at the scene of the wreck. It reached this city at 8:25 p. m. The track is now restored and it is expected that traffic will move on schedule today. But for the assistance rendered by the firemen it would have been 48 hours before the wreckage could have been cleared and the track restored.

LATEST FOOD REGULATIONS.

Stringent Orders of Federal Food Board Regarding Wheat Products.

A. S. Morris of this city, food administrator for Otsego county, received yesterday a communication relative to the use of cereals in hotels, restaurants and other public eating places, which will be of interest to many readers. The notice is from the Hotel and Restaurant division of the United States Food administration, and reads as follows:

Public eating places and clubs to observe two wheatless days per week; Monday and Wednesday as at present. In addition thereto not to serve to any one guest at any one meal an aggregate of breadstuffs, macaroni, crackers, pastry, pies, cakes, wheat breakfast cereals containing a total of more than two ounces of wheat flour. No wheat products to be served unless specially ordered. Public eating establishments not to buy more than six pounds of wheat products for each 50 meals served."

No Price Fixing for Maple Sugar.

In response to numerous inquiries, Administrator Morris wishes to say that no prices have been fixed for maple sugar, maple syrup or other maple products.

Farmhouse at Oneonta Destroyed.

The farmhouse of John White, near Oneonta, on what is known as Cousse's road, leading from the Oneonta valley past the Brown farm to this city, caught fire from a defective chimney, is assumed, last evening and burned to the ground with a considerable portion of the contents. The neighbors rushed to the scene and rendered what assistance was possible after the fire was discovered, but it was impossible to save the structure. The amount of insurance could not be learned over the telephone last night.

Meetings Today.

St. James' guild will meet this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. George Boekes, 81 Elm street.

Regular meeting of Mrs. C. D. Hammond division, 214, G. I. A. E. of L. E., at 2:30 p. m.

RECRUITS FOR COMPANY G

Ten Enlistments Yesterday — Much Interest and Enthusiasm Shown.

Since it was so fully and carefully explained at the meeting of citizens in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday night, that enlistment in the New York State Guard means only service within the confines of the state, recruiting in Company G has gone forward in rapid shape. Ten recruits were pledged yesterday afternoon. A meeting of the sub-committee was held yesterday afternoon and it became very evident that the local military organization is close to the people of this city. The personnel of the officers and men of the company is such that all can point with pride, and it is the purpose of the officers to keep the company up to its present high standard.

At the citizens' meeting the fact also has been developed that young men likely to be drafted or eligible for draft, would not only be rendering a service to the state in joining the local unit, but could also materially benefit themselves. For instance, a young man who has some military knowledge when drafted will not long remain a private, and his knowledge and willingness to apply his military experience can only result in advancement.

Only one hour and a half one night a week is consumed in drill, and reasonable excuses are accepted for absence. In addition to the drilling, club privileges are extended to every member and all this without any expense.

The personnel of the company is as follows:

Captain—F. M. H. Jackson.
First Lieutenant—H. D. McLaury.
Second Lieutenant—L. M. Baker.
First Sergeant—John J. Croft.
Supply Sergeant—Frank J. McPeck.
Sergeant—Julian B. Jackson.
Bugler—Russell L. Stapleton.
Bugler—Ford B. Talmadge.
Privates — R. T. Argood, O. M. Beams, C. J. Blizard, R. J. Briggs, G. R. Bugbee, P. Chase, H. R. Church, L. M. Cook, A. L. Cook, W. F. Couse, S. R. Couse, J. Curtis, W. A. Fay, V. E. Graves, R. W. Hadsell, F. W. Hanner, J. E. Hay, H. Hendricks, A. E. Hopkins, C. S. Jennings, M. D. Johnson, G. D. Kellogg, E. W. Merrill, E. E. Oliver, H. A. Pearsall, C. E. Roth, R. A. Sandell, C. H. Shaddock, C. W. Sigbee, T. B. Skuse, W. Stapleton, E. F. Stoddard, C. L. Streeter, L. W. Taylor, J. G. Thayer, L. D. VanWoert, I. W. VerValin, E. G. Wadden, E. S. Walker, E. P. Whitmarsh, I. F. Whitney, J. E. KAYSER MILL TO ENLARGE.

Takes Section of Building Formerly Occupied by W. H. Williams.

The Kayser Mill, occupying in large part the building formerly known as the Windsor hotel barn, is in need of additional floor space and has taken and will shortly occupy that portion of the building now occupied by William H. Williams with his paint shop. It is the intention to specify remodel and equip with additional machinery this large section of the first floor.

Mr. Williams, who has been in ill health for several weeks, has decided to take a few months for rest and recuperation, and to spend the greater portion of the time out of doors. He will vacate the building on Saturday of this week, having completed all the work he had in hand. He will go to the mountains near Scranton, Pa., not far from his old home, where he will be able to receive the medical care of an old friend now an expert in lung troubles. Mr. Williams plans to return after a few months and reopen in a new location, as he is confident that the city needs a paint shop and is equally confident that enough patronage can be secured to make it profitable.

WENT OVER THE TOP.

Susquehanna Division of the D. & H. Moves 6,195 Cars on Sunday.

Striving to make the division serve the nation well in this emergency, the officers of the Susquehanna division of the D. & H. have been making some record movements with the hearty cooperation of crews of the men in the train service. Last week for four consecutive days a high average was attained, that was the then record for that number of days, although for single day the record was 100 cars above the average of the four days. On Sunday last, however, the division moved exactly 6,195 cars, which exceeded the stunt set for the day's efforts by 135 cars. The division is certainly making a record that will probably stand for a time at least.

Free to automobile owners—No matter what car you drive or what make of storage battery you are using, we will test and inspect it, fill it with distilled water, examine and clean all connections free of charge. SOLDIERS STILL NEED SOCKS

Red Cross Once More Has to Say That Knitted Socks Are Wanted—No Overproduction Probable—List of Articles Not Needed.

That old bugaboo, "the soldiers do not need knitted socks," has again to be denied by the Red Cross. This time an emphatic assertion is issued by the woman's bureau of the national organization that the socks will always be needed.

"When it is known that the life of a pair of socks in the trenches is about three days," says the statement, "there is no danger of overproduction. If the government's supply to a recruit in the camps and cantonments on this side of the water is three or four pair, it doesn't take a mathematician to figure out the enormous numbers that our army will require collectively 'over there.'"

"Moreover," the article continues, "a fresh, warm pair of socks is the best preventative of trench feet there is. A wool sock forms a cushion sole for the heavy hodnail ammunition boots and will be very acceptable summer or winter say British and French war veterans."

When the Red Cross gets to the place where it does not require any more of a certain article it makes official announcement of the fact. This was done yesterday. The following articles are no longer wanted:

flannel ring, folded gauze strip, comfort pillows, bed socks, towels, cut gauze square, pads of waste gauze, ice bag covers, hot water bag covers, and wash cloths.

The Millford branch of the local chapter yesterday sent in the following articles: Forty-nine large absorbent pads, 1,700 gauze sponges, six large irrigation pads, six small irrigation pads, eight small absorbent pads, 25 many-tailed bandages, 20 abdominal bandages, 220 compresses (9x9), six large gauze packings, six small gauze packings, three 3-yard rolls, and 20 triangular bandages.

Wells Bridge sent: Twelve short bed socks, three long bed socks, eight outing bed socks, nine handkerchiefs, 18 tray cloths, four table napkins, three pair of socks, seven pair of wristlets, two mufflers.

CHARLES B. REYNOLDS DIES.

Father of Conductor J. W. Reynolds Passes Away at Home of Son.

Charles B. Reynolds, long a well known resident of this city, died last evening at the home of his son, J. W. Reynolds, 6 Luther street. The cause of his death was Bright's disease from which he had suffered for the past ten weeks.

One of the last wishes that Mr. Reynolds expressed was that no flowers be sent him at his funeral. While he was very fond of them he always believed that they should be enjoyed by the living. In their stead he requested that his Bible, one of his most cherished possessions, be placed upon his casket.

The deceased was born at Middlefield, November 10, 1843, the son of Israel and Phoebe Davison Reynolds. He resided there as a farmer until he came to Oneonta 25 years ago. In 1888 he married Miss Frances Kinch of Sidney, by whom he had three children, all surviving, J. W. Reynolds of 6 Luther street, a son, and two daughters, Mrs. Mable Horton, 10 Bond avenue, and Mrs. Frank Pierce, 59 Gilbert street. He also is survived by 12 grandchildren, a brother, John Reynolds, of Cooperstown, and Mrs. Mary Baldwin of Schenectady.

For a number of years, since he gave up farming, Mr. Reynolds has been a painter. Following the death of his wife four years ago, he alternately made his home six months of the year with his daughter, Mrs. Mable Horton, and his son, J. W. Reynolds.

The funeral will be held at the home of his son at 2:30 Friday afternoon. The Rev. Norman S. Burd, pastor of the West End Baptist church, will officiate. Interment will be in the vault in the Plains cemetery.

Burial of A. D. Hitchcock.

The body of the late Albert D. Hitchcock was brought yesterday from his home in Walton to Franklin, for burial in the Oneonta Valley cemetery. The service in Franklin was conducted by the Franklin Masonic lodge, by request of the Oneonta lodge, of which Mr. Hitchcock was a member.

Among those present at the service at Franklin were Miss Ellen E. Hitchcock of Oneonta, Miss Jessica Hitchcock of York, Pa., Prof. and Mrs. George P. Bristol of Ithaca, and Charles S. Hitchcock of Hartwick. The Oneonta Masonic lodge was represented by P. M. H. Jackson and Ellery W. Spencer.

Mrs. F. T. Starkweather Dead.

Residents of Cooperstown will be saddened to learn of the death in Pomfret, Conn., of Annie Nelson, widow of Frederick T. Starkweather. Mrs. Starkweather was the daughter of the late Supreme Court Justice Samuel Nelson. Her funeral will take place Friday morning in Christ church, Cooperstown, where she passed many years.

Mrs. Starkweather was well known in Otsego county. Her daughter, Katherine, married the late John M. Howers, who died recently.

FROM TROLLEY INTO CREEK.

Aged Man Met Death in a Peculiar Manner at Index.
Frank Andrews, aged 80 years, stepped off the trolley car at Index Tuesday evening and fell 14 feet into the creek. When taken from the water he was dead.

Mr. Andrews resided with his son, William Andrews, at Toddsville, and was on the way to spend the night with his daughter, Mrs. Eugene Bliss, at Hyde Park. The car ran beyond the station at Index and stopped on the bridge. Mr. Andrews, the only passenger on the car, apparently thought he was at the station, and stepped off.

The body was found floating in the water, face down, and Dr. Bassett who was called, was of the opinion that death had been due to heart failure caused either by the fall or the sudden plunge into the water. The body was taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bliss, nearby.

Mr. Andrews was highly respected. He had been a resident of that vicinity all his life, by occupation a carpenter. For many years he resided at Fly Creek. Mrs. Jay Leomis of Coopers town is a niece.

BIG AUDIENCE AT HIGH SCHOOL.

Second Performance of The Arrival of Kitty Meritorious.

The High School Dramatic club was greeted with an even larger crowd at the second performance of The Arrival of Kitty at the assembly hall last evening, and the cast responded with perhaps an even snappier performance, the confidence and freedom gained by the experiences of the previous evening being in evidence, although it was difficult to say wherein in the main the performance surpassed that of the initial evening. Naturally there was much curiosity relative to the appearance of Miss Lynch as Aunt Jane and Miss Martin as Jane, the only new performers in the cast. The consensus of opinion apparently among those witnessing both performances was that the two ladies named maintained admirably the high standard set the previous evening by Misses Rogers and Trauger and the entire cast, their work comparing very favorably.

The audience entered heartily into the merit of the piece itself and seemed to enjoy it hugely. Much credit is due to Miss Slattery, who directed the production and to Miss Emerson, who drilled the musicians, the school orchestra and quartet doing excellent work. Acknowledgment should also be made to Thomas H. Dickson for his very efficient services in the make-up for the various participants, his work aiding materially in the successful result. The club also is indebted to the Home Furnishing company for the furniture, to Mrs. Hubbard for the hats and to B. F. Sisson for the gowns. The club will net a satisfactory sum from the venture in addition to the satisfaction caused by the universal favorable comment heard from all.

ATTEND ALBANY CONFERENCE.

To Establish Closer Relation Between Commercial Bodies and Military.

At a conference of delegates from commercial organizations and county home defense committees of the state, to be held in the executive chamber of the capitol at Albany today the Oneonta Chamber of Commerce will be represented by President Charles Smith, Secretary Charles E. Westervelt and the Home Defense committee of Otsego county by Hon. L. P. Butts.

The conference has been called by Adjutant General Charles H. Sherill for the purpose of establishing a closer relationship between the organized commercial bodies and the military establishment of the state. Governor Whitman is to speak at the conference Thursday morning. At 1 p. m. a recess will be taken to enable the delegates to attend a luncheon to be given by the Albany Chamber of Commerce at Hotel Ten Eyck.

Notice to Contractors.

We, the undersigned committee of the Board of Supervisors of Otsego county, N. Y., hereby give notice that we will receive sealed proposals at the office of D. J. Kilkeny, 143 Main street, Oneonta, N. Y., until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon of the first day of April, 1918, for the construction of concrete water storage tank, pipe lines, concrete septic tank, septic tank and all other necessary appurtenances as shown on the plans and specifications which may be seen at the office of D. J. Kilkeny at Oneonta, N. Y.

A certified check for 5 per cent of the amount of the bid, payable to B. G. Johnson, county treasurer of Otsego county, must accompany each proposal and in case the bidder's proposal is not accepted, or his bid rejected, his check will be returned to him as soon as the successful bidder has furnished his bond and signed the contract. The contractor to whom the award is made will be required within ten days after the date of the award to give a surety company bond in the amount of 50 per cent of the contract price. The work shall be commenced within ten days after execution of the contract and the water supply system shall be completed and in working condition on or before June 1, 1918, and other construction shall be completed and in working condition on or before June 20th, 1918.

The certified check of the successful bidder shall be returned upon the execution of the contract and the filing of the bond. In case such successful bidder shall fail to enter into the contract and file the bond within the time specified, the check shall be the property of the county of Otsego and the avails thereof applied as liquidated damages.

The committee reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Bids are to be sealed and addressed to U. A. Ferguson, Chairman of Tuberculosis Hospital committee, care of D. J. Kilkeny, Oneonta, N. Y., and must be plainly marked on the outside "Proposal for construction of water supply system and sewage disposal plant, Otsego County Tuberculosis hospital. Dated March 18th, 1918"

A DELIGHTFUL PERFORMANCE.

Burnet's Short Story Delights a Normal Audience.

Among the short stories chosen by the critics as best for nineteen sixteen, Burnet's story of "Fog" ranks high. This story was ably presented yesterday by students of the Normal, and a delighted audience confirmed the opinion of the critics that this is a good story. It is not a story of strong moral fiber, nor is it a story of artistic workmanship; yet it possesses undoubted superiority in a strong appeal to the unseen forces in human nature. Although our trained judgments scoffed at supernatural agencies, latent in our souls is a conviction that there "are more things in heaven and earth than are dreamed of in our philosophies." It is to this mystic romanticism, which slumbers in most of us, that Burnet's story makes its potent appeal. We can cheerfully commend the story to all readers who have leisure for an unproductive but romantic hour.

The parts were well rendered: Miss Slingerland made a splendid passage—as the story demands—from this work-a-day world to the tenuous atmosphere of the supernatural; Miss Stanford emphasized very effectively the mystic call of the sea which is well high irresistible; Miss Green added impressively the sense of the weird and the spell of the unseen; in Miss Wilkins' portion, the element of romance was introduced, and this she interpreted with fine sympathy; the climax of this mystic romance was reached in Miss Banning's portion, and no one could have improved upon her interpretation; then Miss Morehouse brought the story to a most fitting conclusion. Indeed, the fine shades of feeling were so splendidly reflected that we do not hesitate to commend the speakers, each and all, for a highly satisfactory performance.

For the musical numbers, we have like enthusiasm: Miss Slocum played Chopin's "Polonaise in A Major" with delicate touch and sympathy; Miss Gleason generously gave a double number, Schubert's "Erl King" and the "Ave Maria"; both were rendered in her best manner with silvery tones and warm feeling qualities which ever make her performances delightful. Music, song, and story made the afternoon worth while.

BOYS AND GIRLS COMPETE.

Department of Agriculture Issues Advance Prize Lists.

Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. Wilson has sent out the advance prize lists for the Boys' and Girls' exhibits for the New York State Fair. This department is designed to encourage the boys and girls in schools in agricultural work, and was established by Commissioner Wilson two years ago. It has brought many exhibits from boys and girls in all parts of the state and has resulted in the keenest competition.

"It is especially desirable at this time that boys and girls be urged to interest themselves in agricultural pursuits and food conservation," said Commissioner Wilson.

The prize list contains classes for products raised on the farm by boys and girls as it did last year, and in addition this year there are nine classes devoted to food conservation. Prizes are to be awarded for the best exhibit of "war or wheat-saving bread," war or wheat-saving biscuits, muffins, best exhibit of bakestuff based on war-time recipes, best collection of three varieties of canned vegetables, best collection of three varieties of canned fruit, best collection of three kinds of canned meat, fish or poultry, method of canning to be stated on label; best collection of three kinds of dried vegetables, method of drying to be stated; best collection of three kinds of preserves, method of preparation to be stated on label; best collection of dried fruits.

The prize list will be forwarded on application to Commissioner Wilson, Department of Farms and Markets, Albany, N. Y.

CLEANSER YOUR HAIR MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL, THICK, GLOSSY, WAVY

Try this! All dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will spend a few cents for a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

HOTEL GUESTS ROUSED BY FIRE.

Blazing Waste in Adams Express Office Causes Commotion at Early Hour.

Rudely awakened from their slumbers at the hour of 3:31 yesterday morning by thick, stinging smoke, 25 guests of the Windsor hotel, mostly travelling men, ran in haste from the building to the street. The fire was found in a waste-can in the office of the Adams Express company at 40 Chestnut street. The men were scantily attired, but carried their grips with them in making their exit.

The fire was discovered by some unknown man who telephoned the alarm to fire headquarters. When the firemen arrived they found the flames had taken a good hold in the window frame in the rear of the store, but they were extinguished in a short time. The damage was roughly estimated by Chief Charles Choate as $150 to the building and $50 to packages consigned to the express company's care.

The express office is located in the trolley station. A number of the rooms of the hotel are directly above it. The cause of the blaze is believed to have been spontaneous combustion.

The Case 9-18 Kerosene Tractor

This kerosene burning tractor is especially well adapted to a large variety of operations, both traction and belt. It is practical for small, medium or large farms.

This size is rated at 9 horsepower on the draw bar and on the brake, but it will develop much in excess of Good design and construction are the two vital factors in tractor construction. A thorough investigation of the 9-18 will prove this.

The motor is of four cylinder valve in the head which secures the highest efficiency for the fuel. Cylinder head is removable making it accessible for cleaning out carbon or to regrind valves. Valve stems, springs operating mechanism enclosed and protected from dust dirt. Constant oil spray keeps all parts well lubricated. Ignition is by means of high grade magneto, no dry required.

One of these tractors is shown and fully demonstrated at the Tractor school being held here this week. For deliveries.
